OUR BRANDS

OPTIMISTIC CHANGE

In a world where trust and sustainability influence consumer values, “Optimistic Change” products embody progress with purpose. This assortment includes products made with innovative, eco-conscious materials designed to inspire a brighter tomorrow. Amidst this consumer shift toward sustainable purchasing, this collection embodies transparency and authenticity through offerings that reduce environmental impact while combining function and responsible design.

It will be critical to rebuild trust by communicating hopeful and reliable climate-related information and avoiding misleading consumers through greenwashing.

85% of people have changed their purchasing habits to become more sustainable in the past five years.

source: Exploding Topics

Global online searches for sustainable goods have increased 71% in five years. We expect this trend to continue building.

INTELLIGENT SIMPLICITY

“Intelligent Simplicity” celebrates the beauty of streamlined design and purposeful functionality. As consumers seek balance in a fast-paced world, this trend focuses on versatile, durable products that make life easier without compromising style. We bring this vision to life with thoughtful innovations and materials that combine practicality with a clean, modern aesthetic. From multitasking tools to minimalist designs, this collection reflects the desire for products that seamlessly integrate into daily routines while promoting mindful living.

The new neutrals are trending in every consumer goods category, from drinkware, housewares, electronics & soft goods. Sage green is replacing traditional colder grays. Dark browns feel rich and warm like a hug. Warm whites are softer and soothing and less harsh than traditional whites.

73% of consumers wish they could slow down the pace of their life.

GLIMMERS

The “Glimmers” trend highlights the power of small, joyful moments that bring comfort and connection in an ever-changing world. Drawing on nostalgia and sensory appeal, these products are designed to evoke delight and emotional resonance. This collection reflects this trend with playful designs, vibrant colors, and innovative features that inspire positivity. Whether it’s a nostalgic accessory or a functional piece with a touch of fun, products in this trend create meaningful experiences that connect brands to their audiences. Explore how thoughtful details can turn everyday moments into something extraordinary, sparking joy and building lasting impressions.

Joy helps consumers cope with difficult circumstances and find a sense of escape. From hospitality to the food industry, companies are engineering products and services that can bring joyful moments to audiences.

33% of consumers prioritize fun and play.

CARE-FULLY

Care-Fully is all about prioritizing wellness, mindfulness, and balance in today's busy world. As consumers focus on self-care and well-being, this trend features products that enhance relaxation, recovery, and overall comfort. This collection embraces this ethos with thoughtfully crafted items made from eco-friendly materials, blending function with soothing aesthetics. From sleep aids to wellness essentials, each product is designed to help people slow down, recharge, and live more intentionally. Discover how "Care-Fully" products help customers make wellness a priority while creating meaningful connections.

U.S. consumers now consider wellness a top or important priority in their everyday lives, and Millennial and Gen Z consumers are spending more on health and wellness than older consumers.

39% of consumers want to spend more time outdoors.
